

Jack A. Lloyd

Regional President, Community Banking

Jack A. Lloyd is North Region President of Chicagoland Community Banking, where he is responsible for guiding the Region's growth in Retail and Business Banking. Previously, he was Senior Vice President and National Sales Director for Harris Private Bank.

Jack initially joined Harris in September 2000 as Senior Vice President and Division Head of Residential Mortgages. A year later he took on the added responsibility as Deputy Head of the Consumer Lending division. Prior to joining Harris, Jack was Senior Vice President at PNC Mortgage Corp., managing mortgage production for both the Central Region of the U.S. and the company's National Telesales division. Before that, he was employed at Home Savings of America for over 10 years managing various banking and mortgage operations coast-to-coast. He has more than 25 years of experience in financial services with companies in New York, California, Texas and Florida.

A native of the Chicago area, Jack attended the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana, where he was a member of the Dean's List and the university's National Championship football team. He earned a BBA in Management and Finance in 1977. He also participated in the MBA program at Northwestern University's Kellogg School of Business in Evanston, Illinois.

Jack has been an active member of business and civic organizations, including United Way and Junior Achievement. A long time Inverness resident in Palatine Township, Jack has participated in many area youth, church and school programs, including coaching basketball in Palatine and the Inverness Park District, serving as President of the Northwest Suburban Basketball Ministry and on the Board of Trustees for Immanuel Lutheran Church in Palatine.

He resides in Inverness, Illinois, with his wife, Linda, and their two younger daughters, Joslin and Jamie. His son, Brad, is a head football coach and professor at Admiral Farragut Academy in St. Petersburg, FL. His oldest daughter, Jackie, is pursuing a Masters in Education at Columbia University in New York.
