I manage the Schaumburg branch of Countrywide Home Loans. We provide residential real estate mortgages. Any person in need of home financing is a potential client. A homeowner who is considering selling, is likely to become a buyer soon, and is likely to eventually need a mortgage. Referrals usually come from real estate agents, real estate attorneys, and past clients. I have originated over 3,000 loans in my career.

As the branch manager, I am always looking for loan officers who may be unhappy where they work and would consider making the move to Countrywide, the dynamic industry leader.

Any person who presently has a mortgage may benefit from a home refinance. There are different motivations at different times in a homeowners life. Today's homeowner is knowledgeable, will usually view a mortgage as a financial instrument, and not as a burden, and may appreciate speaking with a mortgage professional to determine the best loan product.
